

Pam and Charlie

We live on a little farm in Florida and we have a passion for life. We have the best of it all. We live in the country but are 10 miles to town and only 20 miles to the world's prettiest white sand beaches.

We met through our mutual love of animals. Our friendship began at a local dog park followed by short excursions to the beaches of the Gulf Coast. As our friendship grew so did our love and respect for each other.

We want a child to share our lives with and teach them all about the world around them. We are fortunate enough to be young and retired. This will give us the opportunities to travel with our child to some of the places that we read about and touch historical places instead of just learning about them in school.

We LOVE to travel and explore!

We have always know we wanted to share our lives with a child. We tried to have a child but were unable to. Adoption has always been in our minds since we both have adopted family members in our family.

We have nieces and nephews we adore!

Thank you for taking the time to get to know us!
